- Presentation

DISCUSSION: Mason VanHouweling introduced Jeremy Aguero with Applied Analysis.

Mr. Aguero and his team were asked if they could determine what businesses were located within the Las Vegas Medical District by the City of Las Vegas. Today’s presentation is the first cut at understanding what businesses are in the area. This is a preliminary analysis.

The team pulled reports on all businesses who are covered by unemployment insurance coverage and then the records for all the people who are licensed to provide medicine in the State of Nevada. The team then geocoded the data and put the information into graphs and maps.

The summary of findings was presented to the Board.
The LVMD accounts for nearly 7 percent of Clark County’s active medical doctors and provides home to nearly 500 businesses. 44 percent of those businesses are dedicated to healthcare related activities. These businesses provide employment for an estimated 7,000 individuals, 47 percent of which work in healthcare services.

Mr. Aguero gave an overview of the top ten LVMD Industries and the top ten LVMD employers.

In response to Chair O’Reilly’s question Mr. Aguero stated that Southern Nevada has about 55,000 employer businesses and about 150,000 non-employer businesses, for example real estate agents, sole proprietors, etc.

Member Hagerty asked how one defines a place of public accommodation.

Ms. Caputo replied that is a location where the public is welcome, not a private club.

Chair O’Reilly asked where the acronym “LGBT” came from and Ms. Caputo replied that it’s not a defined acronym but rather a social construct and some do add “Q” on the end as well.

DISCUSSION: Mr. VanHouweling introduced Dr. Stuart Brown, the founder of the National Institute of Play.

Chair O'Reilly explained how he met and got to know Dr. Brown. Dr. Brown has traveled the world talking about the Science of Play and he is globally recognized.

Dr. Brown stated he should be introduced as an aging, neotenist primate. Neotenist means to stretch and we are designed fundamentally to remain immature through our entire life time. Some of the characteristics of neoteny are to remain playful. The definition of play was explained as having a separate biology from all other processes. Attunement is one element of play.

Dr. Brown first recognized the importance of play by discovering its absence in the life stories of murderers and felons. He was asked in 1966 to find out why the Texas tower shooter murdered 14 people after killing his wife and mother. He was given an unlimited budget and conducted dissections and interviews and found out again and again that the shooters' sadistic father had suppressed play behavior from day one. This individual was a brilliant, young man who was very angry and empty. Play deprivation was a consensus of the entire group of experts who determined he was incapable of handling his violent and aggressive emotions.

Dr. Brown then studied young murderers at Huntsville prison, comparing them against 300 matched controls and the play history of the murderers were vastly different compared to the matched controls. This opened his eyes to the history of play.
